

ROGER THOMPSON ADMITS IDENTITY

New York Chauffeur Who Drove
Thaw Away from Matteawan
Is "Up Against It"

MAY GIVE DETAILS OF ESCAPE

"Gentleman Roger" May Tell All He Knows
If Thaw Family Does Not Come to His Rescue—Thaw Quarrels with Attorneys

JAIL PHYSICIAN REGARDS HIM SANE

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 22.—"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the New York chauffeur held under the Dominion immigration laws as having aided Harry K. Thaw, legally a lunatic, to cross the Canadian frontier, announced from his cell tonight that he was "up against it" and that if the Thaw family did not come to his rescue he would perhaps in justice to himself, be forced to tell all he knows about Thaw's escape from Matteawan and thus complicate the proceedings under which Thaw's lawyers hope to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus on Wednesday next.

Tonight Thompson removed the smoked eye glasses he has worn since his arrest and openly admitted that the name "Mitchell Thompson" he had given the authorities was fictitious and in reality he is Roger Thompson, car salesman and dare-devil chauffeur, who drove the car which whisked Stanford White's slayer away from Matteawan.

"Sure, I'm Roger Thompson," he said. "I need money and help now and its up to the Thaws. I was framed upon getting in this case and they ought to stand by me now. I haven't a cent and if they admitted me to bail I couldn't raise the money. Even if I could, I would be arrested if I crossed the New York state line. It's tough stuff. The other four fellows mixed up in the game made their get-away, but I stuck to Thaw to the finish and I'm the goat. That's pretty hard."

"What about the details of the escape?" he was asked.

"Don't ask me," said Thompson. "I can't talk about that now."

Thaw, in a cell above "Gentleman Roger" refused even to admit he had ever seen him.

"Oh, that man," he exclaimed. "You know I can't talk about him."

Thaw's Employ Counsel.

Counsel has been employed for Thompson by the Thaw family and it was through their efforts that his arraignment today as a violator of the immigration laws was postponed until Friday next. His lawyer is Louis St. Laurent of Quebec. It was admitted by the chauffeur that the Thaws retained St. Laurent and that they expected him (Thompson) to "keep his trap shut." He added grimly that he thought they ought to do more than give him a lawyer. "All they want," he said, "is to keep my case separate from Thaw's. I wish I hadn't mixed up in it."

Thaw had a quarrel with his many attorneys today. They had warned him to issue no statements, but he insisted on talking about what he described as an omission on the part of newspapers in Canada and the United States in not printing in full a recent statement of his lawyers quoting William Travers Jerome as saying Thaw was sane.

"This omission has outraged the British idea of fair play," said Thaw. "They believe in a square deal."

Thaw's appetite apparently is good, for only bits of food remained on the table.

M. LaForee, the jailer, said tonight that his observations indicated Thaw "had spells."

"He's queer," he said, "but has behaved fine."

Regards Thaw as Sane.

Dr. Joseph E. Noel, the jail physician, who has visited Thaw daily, said this afternoon he regarded him as sane. It was said that the doctor had been watching Thaw's action at the request of the Dominion immigration authorities.

During his varying moods today Thaw was reminded of the predicament in which his escape from Matteawan had placed Howard Barnum, the old gate-keeper past whom he fled to freedom.

"That's too bad," said Thaw. "Barnum didn't know a thing I was to do. He is innocent."

Thaw telegraphed instructions tonight to William Vanamee, his attorney at Newburgh, to assist Barnum in any court procedure at Thaw's expense. New York state officers waiting here for Thaw's release then by the immigration authorities admitted tonight that they were at sea as to where he would be deported in that event.

"It doesn't make much difference," said Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general from New York. "We have arranged to hasten extradition in either Vermont or New Hampshire. We'll get him sure. Once in the United States the road to Matteawan is practically clear."

All But One Accounted for.

New York, Aug. 20.—Of the five men who assisted Harry K. Thaw to escape from Matteawan, all except Thomas Flood have been accounted for. Roger Thompson is under arrest at Sherbrooke. Richard J. But-

ST. LOUIS PASTOR HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

REV. J. G. BRODT BUYS BEER FOR FIVE YOUNG BOYS

Admits to the Police That He Had Purchased Beer and Taken the Boys to Disorderly Resorts, but Denies Charge of State Warrant.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—The Rev. John G. Brodt, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church, arrested here today on charges of five boys that he bought beer for them and took them to a disorderly resort, was released on bond tonight. He announced he probably would resign from the ministry at once.

He admitted to the police the boys' accusations that he had purchased beer for them and had taken them to a resort, but denied the more serious charge of a state warrant issued against him after his arrest. His identification and arrest were brought about by a National League baseball pass found by the police after a scuffle with the boys on the street.

The boys were arrested last midnight while scuffling with Brodt at a street corner. The minister first said the boys had robbed him, but after the boys told their story, the police sent for Brodt. After the police had confronted him with the evidence Brodt confessed that his first story was in part true.

The warrant charging a statutory offense against Brodt was issued later in the day.

OFFICERS BELIEVE WOMAN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MURDERS

Question of Whether Husband or Wife Died First Will Settle Disposition of the Estate.

Dubuque, Iowa, Aug. 22.—Ten women's hairpins were found today among the ashes of the Sternweis barn where one of the adult bodies was discovered after the fire which caused the death of five persons Thursday at the Sternweis home, fifteen miles northwest of here. Possibility that the hairpins may have belonged to Mrs. Sternweis is being considered in the effort to determine which died first, Mrs. Sternweis or her husband. It was first believed that the body found in the barn was that of Sternweis who, officers thought, slew his family.

The question of which died first will settle the disposition of the estate. If the husband died first the wife will share about $25,000, or one-third of the estate. If the woman died first her heirs will get none of the husband's property.

Fixing responsibility for the deaths and fire also is involved in the identification of the body found in the barn. The body of one of the three children has not been discovered.

Officers tonight were inclined to believe that Mrs. Sternweis and not her husband had killed the family and fired the buildings. There was nothing to support this theory except the finding of the hairpins near the adult body found in the barn debris. The bodies were so badly burned that identification is impossible.

GOVERNOR EXPECTED TO MAKE SEVERAL MINORITY APPOINTMENTS

Governor Dunne Will Leave Today
For Keokuk and Denver, Colo.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 22.—Before leaving for Keokuk, Ia., and Denver, Colo., tomorrow Governor Dunne is expected to make a number of minority appointments. Several other appointments among them the remaining members of the fish and game conservation commissions force of deputies, will be announced.

Today Governor Dunne appointed James J. Porty of this city a deputy fish and game warden.

Dr. B. A. Smith of Champaign was today appointed a member of the state board of dental examiners, succeeding Dr. Henry Whipple of Quincy.

ler and Eugene Duffy spent money freely in Broadway cafes Wednesday, telling their cronies they were going to Atlantic City. Michael O'Keefe, so far as detectives could learn, has not been here since Thaw's escape.

Jerome Appointed.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22.—William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York county, was appointed by Attorney General Cardozo today as special district attorney to represent the state in procuring the return of Harry K. Thaw to New York's jurisdiction. He was selected because of his familiarity with the Thaw case gained in the two murder trials and as special counsel in several of Thaw's attempts to establish his sanity.

Must Be No Discrimination.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Instructions have been sent to the immigration officers at Sherbrooke, it was officially announced tonight, that when Harry K. Thaw comes into their hands there must be no discrimination to believe that this means he will not be sent to New York state, but on rejection will be returned by the Vermont route, as was an ordinary person coming in by the way Thaw did and subsequently denied domicile in Canada.

MAY RECONSIDER PEACE PROPOSALS

Huerta Administration May Reconsider Its Rejection of the American Proposals

FOR NEW BASIS OF DISCUSSION

Should Mexican Government Arrange New Basis of Negotiation Before Tuesday President Wilson May Not Deliver Message

CRISIS BELIEVED IMMINENT IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Huerta administration in Mexico may reconsider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico and arrange a new basis for negotiations with the United States before next Tuesday. Strong intimations to this effect reached official Washington tonight along with the information that the financial condition of the Huerta administration was such that a crisis was imminent. Should the Huerta government decide to enter into a new basis of discussion, withdrawing its contentions as expressed in the Huerta note replying to the proposals communicated by Mr. Lind, President Wilson in all probability will not read his message to both houses of congress on Tuesday as he intended. The president made no effort today to prevent the house from adjourning until Tuesday. It had been supposed that he would read the message on Monday and would ask the leaders in congress to arrange a joint session. Failure to send any word to the leaders was interpreted in official circles as meaning that the United States practically had given the Huerta government until Tuesday to make up its mind finally as to what it would do.

Will Insist on Resignation.

It is positively reiterated that the United States will continue to insist on the resignation of Provisional President Huerta or any announcement of his intention to do so, as well as his elimination from the presidential race in the subsequent election. President Wilson spent the day in studying the notes exchanged by Lind and Huerta and preparing his message. White house officials announced that no copies of the document would be distributed in advance to the press as has been the custom for years. It was desired to keep the document abreast of developments to the last minute. The message yesterday and there is also a possibility that the president may find it expedient to postpone delivery of the document.

Relations Very Cordial.

Reports from Mr. Lind declare that relations with the Huerta officials are more cordial than before and that they manifest a willingness to find some new ground for a settlement. European diplomatic pressure, it is known here, is quietly at work in Mexico City in an effort to convince Huerta officials that the policy of the United States is being approved abroad. The failure of the Huerta government to obtain funds abroad through the failure of recognition of the United States is pointed to by the diplomats as likely to continue pending a more respectful consideration of the American proposals. It is learned also from authoritative sources that the Huerta government is facing a mutinous army dissatisfied because no pay has been forthcoming for weeks.

It was apparent tonight that Washington officials expected word from Huerta before Tuesday and that unless it comes the notes will be proclaimed to the world.

White house officials, however, were confident that the situation would unravel itself.

Attacks Wilson's Policy.

London, Aug. 23.—The Saturday Review, in a leading article today, savagely attacks President Wilson's Mexican policy. It says President Wilson "unconsciously is playing the game of those in the United States who want control of Mexican politics in order to fill their own pockets."

Concluding the article says: "If he wishes to plunge his own country into a war that would last for years, drive Mexico back into anarchy and play the game of his own political enemies he will continue his present policy and try to break down the Huerta regime. On the other side is the alternative of accepting a trifling reverse of policy."

MAYOR GAYNOR WILL RUN.

New York, Aug. 22.—With Edward E. McCall's acceptance today of Tammy Hall's designation as its candidate for mayor and John Parry Mitchell, collector of the port already picked to lead the Fusionists, Mayor William J. Gaynor was placed in the line for re-election on an independent ticket by his friends today. They emphatically said he would run.

PEKIN MAN HONORED.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—C. H. Parker of Pekin, Ill., was named vice-president of the National Federation of store-keepers, gaugers and store-keepers' gaugers at their convention here today. New York was selected as the next meeting place.

FRIDAY IN CONGRESS.

WEALTHY GRAIN BROKER IS FOUND DEAD ON FRISCO TRAIN

No Other Passengers Were In the Car To Tell Whether Broker Died
By His Own Hand or Was Murdered.

St. Louis, Aug. 22.—James R. Lucas, wealthy grain broker, was found dead with a bullet hole in the right temple when a local Frisco train pulled into Valley Park, Mo., eighteen miles west of here this afternoon. Both the city and county police are hunting for two men who were seen in the coach with Lucas shortly before the shooting but have disappeared. The body was discovered by Conductor Wallace. There was no other passenger in the car to tell whether Lucas had died by his own hand or that of another. The car was detached from the train, the body was left and found and the doors and windows locked pending an investigation. Lucas' hat and the revolver with which he was shot were found beside the railroad tracks half mile east of town.

A coroner's jury tonight returned a verdict of "accidental death" following an inquest over Lucas' body. Neighbors of Lucas' summer home at Valley Park testified he had spoken of buying a revolver with which to kill dogs. Members of the train crew declared they had seen him examining a new revolver shortly after the train pulled out of St. Louis.

AWARDS CONTRACT FOR 3,900 TONS OF ARMOR PLATE

Award to Carbon Steel Co. at $187.04
Per Ton is Reduction of 36 Per Cent Under Last Accepted Bid.

Washington, Aug. 22.—A contract for 3,900 tons of armor plate for the newest American Dreadnaught, now under construction was awarded by the navy department today to the Carbon Steel company of Pittsburgh, at $187.04 per ton, a reduction of $96.99 or 36 per cent under the last accepted bid for this material. The Carbon company which never before has sought a large government contract and the Carnegie company were the only bidders. The Carnegie bid was not made public. Secretary Daniels attributes the saving of $378,730 to the government in this contract to the agitation in favor of establishing a naval armorplate factor.

Real competition developed today for the first time in years. This however, will not interfere with Secretary Daniels' determination to press upon congress the government owned plant plan.

CONFESSES ROBBERIES.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 22.—Joseph Brown, 25 years old, who claims to be a graduate of a leading college and says his home is in Boston, confessed tonight, the police said that he had committed for than a score of burglaries here during the last week.

Brown engaged in a fight with another man last night and in the struggle dropped a pistol. The police went to his room today to arrest him for carrying concealed weapons and found it stocked with several thousands worth several thousand dollars worth of stolen goods.

SHOOT FOR HERRICK

TROPHY OPENS.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 22.—The first stage of the Herrick trophy in the National Rifle association shoot, opened this morning on the 800 and 900 yard ranges. This match had thirty teams entered of eight men each. At the end of the first stage the Iowa team has the lead with a score of 1,168, having 587 on the 900 yard range and 581 on the 800 yard range. The Iowa team used telescope sights while the Massachusetts team, which is second with 1,158, used the straight rifle.

BRYAN ENDORSES CURRENCY BILL

Secretary of State Endorses Bill and Urges Democrats to Stand by President Wilson

OPPOSES MANY AMENDMENTS

In Letter to Chairman Glass He Also Asks
That Bill Be Not Loaded with Amendments That Might Delay Passage

LEADING BANKERS MEET IN CHICAGO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Supporters of the administration currency bill scored an important victory in the house Democratic caucus today when they brought to their aid an unqualified endorsement of the measure from Secretary Bryan and defeated a proposed "insurgent" amendments that would have prohibited interlocking directorates in National or state banks incorporated under the proposed new law. Secretary Bryan in a letter addressed to Chairman Carter Glass of the currency committee approved the bill as it stands, declaring President Wilson had recognized fundamental rights of popular control in its provisions. He asserted that the plank of the Democratic platform against interlocking directorates was aimed chiefly at trusts and he urged Democrats to stand by the president and not to load down the currency bill with any amendments that might endanger its early passage. Fortified with the backing of one of the makers of the Baltimore platform, Representative Glass and Underwood met the demand for an amendment to prohibit interlocking directorates, with a counter proposal that the Democrats of the house take up general legislation against interlocking directorates at the next session. A resolution by Representative Underwood adopted by a vote of 165 to 30 referred the entire subject to the Democratic members of the judiciary committee of the house and directed them to bring in a bill at the next session of congress that would prevent interlocking directorates of all kinds.

Change in Attitude.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—A spirit of conciliation and compromise toward the Owen-Glass currency bill, as it is expected to be amended in congress was manifested at a conference of leading bankers from all parts of the country held here today. Before adjournment tomorrow, it is expected that resolutions recommending a number of important changes in the currency bill now pending in congress will be adopted and that the bankers will use their influence to assist President Wilson in obtaining currency legislation. The change in attitude of the bankers developed after George W. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, told of the meeting he held yesterday with the Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo at which amendments to the currency bill as desired by bankers were discussed and assurances given that the administration was ready to remedy every reasonable objection to the measure.

T. J. Wade of St. Louis and others urged a policy of co-operation. A committee was appointed to report on resolutions presented by James B. Forgan of Chicago, which advised the postponement of currency legislation until a new bill drafted by a commission composed of representatives of the government, bankers and business of all classes appointed by the national chamber of commerce had been prepared.

Will Not Be Approved.

The committee just before midnight announced that the Forgan resolutions recommending that the present congress be asked to take no action on a currency bill, had been laid aside and would not be approved by the committee.

MULHALL STILL ON STAND.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist of the National association of Manufacturers appearing before the house lobby committee swore today that he used the "secret room" in the capitol in the summer of 1911 to help former Representative Condrey of Missouri. Representative Stafford suggested that Mr. Condrey had ceased to be a member of the house several months before that time.

APPROVES CONSTRUCTION.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Secretary Daniels has approved the construction of a wireless station at the Chicago Naval Training school, provided sufficient money is available. This is to be a part of secondary strength, designed to cover the Great Lakes territory and serve as an intermediary between the high power stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coast when conditions are unfavorable for sending messages through long distances.

DISPLAY BOAT CATCHES FIRE.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Thirty men were forced to jump into the water and swim ashore tonight when a replica of the flagship Niagara and the E. C. Hutchins, a display boat caught fire at the water carnival on the lake front. The fires are supposed to have started from fireworks on board both boats. All the men reached shore safely. Damage to the boats was estimated at $15,000.

GIVES BLACKMAILERS MORE THAN $4000

FARMER'S LIFE IS THREATENED BY GANG WHO DEMAND MONEY

Four Men Are Captured by Officers
Who Accompany Iowa Farmer to Appointed Place Where He Had Agreed To Turn Over $2,000
More.

SPENCER, La., Aug. 22.—That Frank Rosenkranz, a prosperous farmer near here has given blackmailers more than $4,000 since last April developed today when four men were arrested.

Rosenkranz has made several large withdrawals from his bank accounts since last April and his banker, J. H. McCord asked him what he was doing with so much money. Rosenkranz finally was persuaded to confide in McCord and said that a gang of men had threatened to take his life if he did not advance them money, he said, he had given them about $4,000 in cash and notes.

Last night Rosenkranz had agreed to turn over $2,000 more. Rosenkranz went to the appointed place with the money but was accompanied by officers who hid near the agreed rendezvous. William Carter, Mack McCarter, Matt Attair and Oscar Cunningham were taken into custody.

INDIANA COMPANIES WIN PRIZES IN COMPETITIVE DRILLS

Two-State Encampment, Uniform
Rank, Knights of Pythias, Closes
Sessions in Danville With Drills.

Danville, Aug. 22.—Indiana companies swept the platter today in the competitive drills at the two-state encampment, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, being held here.

Vigo company No. 83 won the first prize of $600 in class A drills and Terre Haute also took second prize, $400, when Terre Haute company No. 3 was scored. Jansville (Ind.), company No. 3, won third prize, $200.

In class B, Clinton, Ind., company 15, was the only competitor and was awarded first prize, $200.

Evansville, company No. 4 was awarded five prizes, $125 in class C, while Delphi, Ind., company 86, won $50 for having the largest company present.

Centennial company 53 won $50 for having the greatest number attending home meetings, according to official reports. Terre Haute company No. 3 made the best appearance in the street parade.

The encampment ended this evening. An election has been ordered for Sept. 24 at Bloomington to select a brigadier general of the Illinois brigade, and it is probable that Col. John P. Bertoni of that city, will be chosen. It was decided to hold the next two-state encampment in Indiana, the place and time to be chosen later.

CAMINETTI WILL DENY NO STATEMENT OF LOLA NORRIS

Asserts He Would Rather Go To Jail For Life Than Case Doubt on Accuracy of Girl's Testimony.

San Francisco, Aug. 22.—No matter what happens to Mr. I. Hall today, his statement made by Miss Lola Norris regarding the Reno encampment will have the greatest respect for Miss Norris and would rather go to jail for life than throw a shadow of a doubt on the accuracy of her testimony.

This was the statement made today by F. Drew Caminetti, who goes to trial next Tuesday in the United States district court under an indictment for violation of the Mann white slave act, under which his companion, Mary I. Diggs was convicted last Wednesday night.

M'LOUGHLIN DEFEATS CLOUTIER.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 22.—Showing a mastery of tennis technique such as he has not heretofore exhibited on the tennis courts, Maurice E. McLaughlin defeated William J. Cloutier here today in straight sets at 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. This victory of the present champion in the sixth round of the thirty-third annual tournament of the United States national lawn tennis association, eliminated one of McLoughlin's most formidable opponents and virtually assures him a place in the final championship round next Tuesday.

TO RESUME FIGHT ON FREE RAW WOOL TODAY

Republican Senators Stubbornly
Oppose Free Listing of Raw
Wool as Proposed

FAVORS EUROPE AGAINST U. S.

Senator Penrose Asserts Schedule Distinctly Favors Europe—Democrats Do Not Need to Talk for "We Have the Votes"

FAIL TO GET AGREEMENT FOR VOTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Stubborn opposition to free raw wool and the radical reduction in woolen manufactures proposed in the Democratic tariff bill was conducted by Republicans of the senate today and will be resumed tomorrow.

Senators Warren and Penrose addressed the senate for six hours, the former characterizing the proposed bill as "tariff-for-politics-only" instead of for revenue-only, and the latter asserting that the woolen schedule as prepared by the majority was directly against America and for Europe.

Senator La Follette introduced the third minority substitute for the woolen schedule, the others having been proposed by Senators Penrose and Smoot. The wide divergence of minority views on the subject of wool was pleasing to Democratic leaders who asserted that they did not need to talk because "we have the votes."

Senators Smoot and La Follette plan to debate the measure at length.

Senator La Follette's proposal was distinguished chiefly by its rate of 15 per cent ad valorem on first grade raw wool, a rate originally suggested by Democrats of the house and means committee before President Wilson insisted upon free raw wool. The measure also proposed that second grade raw wools be free, "from the British standpoint."

said Senator Penrose, of the Democratic woolen schedule, "this bill actually carries many rates of duty much lower and more favorable to British interests than the New York importers representing the foreign manufacturers dared to ask for."

His own amendment, Senator Penrose believed to be in accordance with the desire of a great majority of American people for protection.

Senator Penrose, of the Democratic woolen schedule, criticized the action of the finance committee majority in reducing the house rate of 15 per cent on combed wool or tops to 5 per cent.

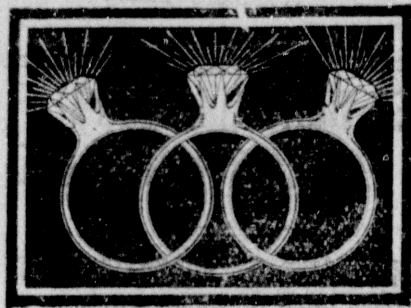

Senator Stone, in charge of the wool schedule, failed in an effort to get an agreement for a vote on the wool schedule tomorrow evening.

SECOND CHAUTAUQUA IS NOW IN PROGRESS

OPENED FRIDAY MORNING UNDER VERY FAVORABLE AUSPICES.

Parade Attracted Many and Proved a Really Gorgeous Spectacle—Colony of Campers Has Grown Rapidly—Children Swarm About the Play Grounds—The Program for Today.

The second annual Jacksonville Chautauqua and Educational Festival opened Friday very auspiciously. The parade held in the morning in size and elaborateness exceeded expectations. Out at the Chautauqua grounds there are now between forty and fifty tents and from all indications the chautauqua this year will far surpass last year in attendance. The prizes awarded for the parade were: Floats, first, Pisgah Presbyterian Sunday school; second, Grace M. E. Sunday school. Automobiles, first, Fletcher Hopper and Harry Hofmann; second, Andre & Andre. Prize for pony outfit, Donald Alkire.

The program for today is as follows:

10:00—Concert. Jeffries Concert band.
10:30—Popular Reading. Barry's "What Every Woman Knows." Miss Ruth Hemenway.
2:00—Concert. The Russell Novelty company.
2:30—A popular lecture, "Julius Caesar." Bishop William A. Quayle.
4:00—Concert. Jeffries Concert band.
7:00—Concert. The Russell Novelty company.
7:30—Lecture, "The Tragedy of Rip Van Winkle." Bishop William A. Quayle.
8:45—Concert. Jeffries Concert band.

The first day of the chautauqua certainly was a success and augurs well for the future days of the enterprise. The weather was absolutely all that could be asked. The parade was a fine exhibition of public spirit, patriotism and zeal. It was a moral lesson not soon to be forgotten and the effort to make handsome and worthy displays was most creditable and reflects great credit on the promoters of the enterprise and on those who took part in it. The various schools and all who had any part in making the parade such a fine success.

A great effort was made to do justice to all and to secure the names of those who took part and if any omissions have been made they will be cheerfully corrected.

Early in the morning the various rigs began assembling and it is worthy of note and great praise that so many came from a distance. Concord and Murrayville made the greatest distance while Woodson, Salem, Pisgah Presbyterian, Ebenezer, and others also drove a good way. The loveliest sight of all was the bright happy faces of the children as they appeared on the floats and in the automobiles.

The marshals were Capt. Jno. E. Wright, T. H. Buckthorpe and Joseph Stice. They had the whole line well in hand and did their duty admirably.

The Line of March.

The parade made a fine appearance and was viewed by a large number. The line of march was followed out as announced in the Journal. The procession was:

Platoon of police.
Jeffries' cornet band.
Veterans on wagon with guns.
Following in buggies—W. H. Jordan, C. R. Taylor, C. E. McDougall, J. T. Hickman and H. S. Stevenson.
Chamber of Commerce float. White prevailing color, white horses with white harness and led by grooms arrayed in white. On the float Misses Irene Cox, Blanche Ator, Jeanette Taylor, Ruth Taylor and Laura Wiswell.
Andre & Andre, float.
D. O. K. K. and K. of P. banners and insignia. R. I. Dunlap, Frank Wilson, W. S. Badger, J. O. Monroe, Gilbert Masters, Tiger in front.

Autos—C. H. Ward, Judge Brockhouse, Ralph Reynolds, Arthur Swain, Harry Obermeyer, S. W. Babb, Ebenezer Spink, Dr. Sylvester Carter, D. E. Estaque 2, Carl Hembrough, D. E. Kennedy, B. A. Cratz, Silas Rentschler, Wm. Zahn, James Cooper, J. T. Kershaw, S. T. Erickson, Clarence Wolke, Geo. Royce, W. H. Allison, T. M. Tomlinson, A. C. Rice, R. T. Cassell, R. D. Mawson 2, J. A. Millard, J. E. Osborne, Dr. Elder, George Clayton, J. W. Rimes, Dr. C. E. Black; Woodson Christian church, Sunday school float, Henry Muehlhausen auto, Miss Louise Capps' class, Grace church Sunday-school on horse-back, white dresses, red ribbons, Misses Helen Wheeler, Beulah Erickson, Elsie Moxon, Hazel Moxon, C. F. Ehnie, J. A. Moss, Fletcher Hopper, H. Hoffman Floral Co., Nelson Murphy, J. A. Mawson, Rev. J. W. Miller, Salem float, Concord float, Illinois I. O. O. F. No. 4 and Rebekahs No. 13, yellow pony buggy, Brooklyn church Sunday-school, Donald Alkire; white pony cart, Grace M. E. Sunday-school, Grace Hall; J. I. Graham, Dunavan, Ebenezer float, Grace church Sunday-school float, pony cart decorated in red, Mamie Kennedy, Grace church second float, R. C. McGinnis, woodson, carriage, Pisgah Presbyterian church Sunday-school float, Rev. Mr. Darsie, carriage, C. S. Black, auto, Samuel Bridgman, carriage, S. W. Black, carriage, C. E. Patterson, carriage.

It is impossible to go into a detailed description of all the rigs, but some notes will be added. Nearly all the automobiles were more or less decorated and all made a fine appearance.

The Congregational school had a fine float driven by Chauncey Carter, and six automobiles.

The Concord school had five machines in the line and they also made a fine showing.

The First Baptist church was represented by Ralph Reynolds. Brooklyn church had a good representation in the person of Donald Alkire with his sunflower pony buggy.

T. M. Tomlinson with a finely decorated auto represented State Street Presbyterian school.

Grace church school had two very creditable floats. One was trimmed in blue and white and well loaded with little folks and another was profusely decorated with flags and national colors. There were also several automobiles from the same school in line.

Asbury church Sunday school was represented by Carl Hembrough with a fine machine.

W. H. Allison was a representative of the Central Christian church. Salem school had a fine float, whose prevailing color was yellow and carried twenty-five children. H. Harrison had charge of the team and all went well. There were other rigs from the same school.

The big delivery auto of Andre & Andre was a fine turnout and attracted much attention. It had a profusion of flowers and national colors.

Ebenezer school had a beautiful float. In the center were Liberty personified by a young lady and Uncle Sam typically arrayed. It had also the national colors and on each corner a young lady draped in white. One represented Peace, another Faith, another Hope and another Love.

Several automobiles were also from the same school.

The D. O. K. K. and K. of P. turnout made a stunning appearance with the tiger in front and the banners on each side. The K. of P. lodge was Favorite 376.

David Estaque had two machines representing Centenary church school.

The Methodist school of Murrayville deserves great credit for seven automobiles and over fifty children. J. L. Dunaway was the marshal in charge and he rode J. E. Osborne's mare, "Daisy," and did his duty admirably.

The Pisgah Presbyterian school had the banner float and it certainly was fine. The prevailing colors were white and green and the decorations were profuse. The leaves put on were fresh, the twenty children were charming and the whole was attractive.

The Woodson Christian school had a unique float with various representations, including Indians with small wigwag, Japanese, Dutch from Holland, Chinese, Uncle Sam typically arrayed, Liberty in the person of a beautiful young lady suitably attired, cowboys, African, Spaniard, Esquimaux, and Christianity in the shape of a young lady sitting with an open bible in her lap.

The Chamber of Commerce float was indeed fine and has already been described.

The parade was the object of great admiration and many hearty compliments were bestowed on it.

The first prize for floats was awarded Pisgah Presbyterian school, $15; second to Grace M. E. school, $5.00.

First prize to automobiles, Fletcher Hopper, $10; second to Andre & Andre, $2.50.

Pony prize—Rev. H. S. Alkire's rig representing Brooklyn Sunday school, $1.50.

On the Chautauqua Grounds.

Nichols Park presented a lively appearance yesterday and it is safe to say that no enterprise could ask for a more auspicious beginning than was enjoyed by the chautauqua management. The best of feeling seemed to prevail and all were determined to make the most of the occasion. Passing along the tented streets one felt as if he was in the midst of a canvass town while a few veterans felt especially at home, only the absence of hard tack and a certain kind of meat were lacking to make things wholly natural. The tenters seemed entirely at home and one gentleman remarked to the Journal reporter that he never slept better in all his life than he slept the night before in his canvass home.

The parade occupied so much time it was impossible to carry out the regular morning program. Dr. G. H. Kopperl presided and spoke briefly as did Mr. Shaw. He mentioned the fact that the good people of the country generally outdid those from the city in the parade and paid them a high compliment. The children sang and then all adjourned for dinner.

Afternoon.

In the afternoon the audience enjoyed a concert by the Jeffries concert band and the Russell Novelty company charmed all who were present. Both organizations covered themselves with glory. The Jeffries band is certainly an organization of which Jacksonville has all reason to be proud. At the second appearance one number was encored four times.

The principal feature of the afternoon was an address by Hon. W. B. Otwell who charmed his audience. He told the people that Morgan county had the blackest soil and the whitest people of any county in the state except Macoupin. He told in a humorous manner of his attempt to organize a farmers' institute and after the most strenuous exertion when he expected the great room in the famous court house to be filled with farmers anxious to be benefited there were hardly a dozen present. The second time he sent a special invitation directly to almost every farmer in the county and thought that would surely attract, but it didn't and then he tried the boys sending them a few kernels of seed corn and inviting them to compete for prizes. That worked and he had five hundred to start with and eighteen hundred later on and then he went to the world's fair at St. Louis with the corn exhibit of the state.

W. R. Coultas Fined $5 and Costs for Assault and Battery—Messrs. Kitchen and Blackburn Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Lynnville and community was well represented at the trial yesterday in 'Squire Dyer's court of William Coultas vs. Anderson Kitchen, Clarence and Simeon Blackburn, and at the close of the hearing the young men were bound over to the November term of the grand jury in the sum of $100 each. The trial is the outcome of a stabling affray which took place at Lynnville Friday of last week. Coultas claimed that the boys were throwing apples at him and when he went over to where the boys were standing one of them cut him with a knife on the left side.

It was brought out in the trial that the boys were throwing apples at a party of young people passing and some of the apples went in Coultas' yard. He went over to where the boys were and a wordy time took place and it was claimed that Coultas grabbed the Kitchen boy about the neck. It was at this time that Coultas received the stab in the side, it is claimed.

Coultas Found Guilty. Following close on the warrant sworn out by Coultas against the young men they in turn swore out a warrant against Coultas for assault and battery. State's Attorney Tilton was assisted by Attorney W. E. Thomson in the case, which came up in 'Squire Coons' court and Coultas argued his own case. As the result of the trial Coultas was fined $5.00 and costs.

SHANTUNG PROVINCE ABOUNDS IN INTEREST

Entering the well built stone station we found the usual bevy of men about, for men are plentiful in this land and generally about every place there are several times as many as are needed. The station master politely took charge of our coats and water bottle and we started off on our walk of a mile to the object of our search. We took the well known trail over which the caravans have traveled for many centuries. A part of the way the railroad is built and all along wherever there was a tunnel or a curve a watchman was stationed, who waved a green flag if all was clear, or a red one if danger. All along too were derailing switches, so that a runaway train might be sidetracked in its mad career, an arrangement similar to that on many Colorado and other mountain roads. We encountered many pack animals along the way and once saw a troop of camels leisurely browsing while their masters rested under the shade of a tree. She consented only on three conditions.

He must dispose of the other wives in his harem.

He must allow her lover a grand funeral.

She must herself superintend the funeral ceremonies.

He was so infatuated that he readily agreed to all the conditions. A handsome girl of godly was presented her, while she made ready for the funeral. With heart weighed down by sadness she bore her burden to the top of a high cliff projecting into the sea and while all about stood amazed she leaped with her burden into the sea. An island is to be seen on the spot where the fatal leap was made and the Chinese point to it as proof of the legend. A few leagues inland is a lonely temple protecting a mute, girlish figure with eyes turned toward the sacred place where rest the mortal remains of herself and lover.

Goodbye to the Orient.

June 20th—The time has come for us to leave the orient after a sojourn of almost four months. Of course a hasty tour doesn't justify any learned discourse on conditions and affairs, yet I cannot refrain from a few comments. In the first place Japan is far more interesting and attractive to the traveler than China. Everything is better kept up; there are far less evidences of dilapidation and decay. The people are far more wide awake and progressive and in every way more attractive. The shops and stores present more attractions and it is pleasant to see the superior position of the women. In Japan one sees ladies on the streets, which is well known unknown in China, only the working classes being permitted any such freedom and in a thousand and one ways is the superiority noticeable.

China has many points of interest. In the southern part there is much grand scenery which will compare favorably with that seen in almost any country. There are many curious and ancient structures to attract attention and in many ways her people are interesting. She has many quaint and ancient objects of interest, though practically all of them are going to decay.

On the other hand one is overwhelmed by the vast swarm of human beings, so thick they constantly jostle each other and live on the edge of starvation, knowing nothing of the comforts of life. Through a vast portion of the country human labor is so plentiful that animals are not used for any purpose whatever. The position of woman is pitiful and as has been stated, a good authority says a vast majority of them attempt suicide at one time or another, while child and adult slavery was dreadful and one is constantly saddened by the thought that a man may with impunity sell his wife or daughters, to beggars about on every hand and in the northern half of the journey especially hordes of naked children from three to ten years of age would follow us and when we were in vehicles would run after us for a long distance beseeching us for money.

The one bright and redeeming feature is the work done by the missionaries, who are the hope of the land. They are training hundreds of young people to get out as teachers and leaders and if only their instructions will prevail the land may be saved, but not without. It is a crucial time in this land and on the servants of the Lord must rest the burden of the salvation of the country.

Japan is undertaking a hard task. With her limited territory and resources she is trying to maintain her place among the nations and the interest on her war debt, the expense of the army and navy and other public enterprises necessitate such heavy taxes that the people are crying out in distress. Will she be able to weather the crisis is the question I leave to those better able to answer.

China too is facing a crisis in her history. Her leaders aspire to a republic, though a vast majority of her population know nothing about it and millions don't even know that the monarchy has been overthrown. Lack of intelligence, transportation facilities and many other things, such as jealousy of each other on the part of the different provinces all tend to prevent the hearty union of effort so necessary to success at such a critical time. The land is too much like a rope of sand. Canton is the special hotbed of treason and what the north wants the Cantonese will not have. Think of a city with from two to four million inhabitants and not a street of any consequence which can be traversed by wheels, all moving of goods and people to be done on the backs of human beings. The president of the republic, Yuan Shih K'ai, is said to be a patriotic, capable man and yet so great is the animosity toward him that he fears to venture from his residence lest he be assassinated. The national legislature or congress expends more time wrangling than in law making and grave fears are expressed regarding the new national loan, lest it be used by the powers making it to accomplish a division of the land.

It was urged by many that the country has existed for centuries, but has generally been under a despotism such as was the case during the prosperous days of Old Mexico when the iron hand of Diaz at least secured tranquility and peace which were better than the present anarchistic condition of the country. If only the other nations of the world will do what is right and give China a fair chance there are hopes that she will come out of her troubles all right, but will they?

As I said before, I do not at all pretend to give a satisfactory or intelligent opinion of the situation, for that would be impossible from a short tour and hasty observation and merely offer a few suggestions for what they are worth. The efforts of the Chinese government to rid the land of opium are most commendable and there are many rays of hope in the gloom.

Tonight we are to start on the long railroad ride across the country, first northward from Peking to Harbin, in the western part of Manchuria on the extreme eastern border of Mongolia, a distance of 883 miles, where we are going to wait two days for the through express to take us to Moscow and St. Petersburg and the trees. They will have less to do in the future if plans are carried out, for it is suggested that the admirably constructed road to which I referred may one day be continued to Irkutsk and form an important trunk line between northern China and western Europe.

Passing a bend in the valley we came in sight of the object of our search, the great wall which was built so long ago. There it stood, an old work when the Master was proclaiming the truths of the gospel on the plains of Judea and all the ages it has stood one of the most colossal of human achievements. The work goes right up to the steep sides of the mountains, sometimes it makes a turn on itself as if the royal builder was trying to see how much he could accomplish and defy the obstacles which nature had interposed. Up and up it went and the towers loomed up at the usual intervals and the pinnacle at the summit seemed to look down at us and dare us to inspect its fastness. It was indeed a difficult undertaking, for in some places the brick had fallen away on one side, leaving a narrow ledge and a yawning descent below. Some of the way the interior surface of the wall was paved with the large fourteen inch square brick and they had become moss grown and slippery so that holding on with one hand on the side of the wall was important, but hard to accomplish. On the outer side were the ramparts and higher wall, so we had to hug the inner side for a hand hold and creep along as best we could.

We passed two or three towers and then came across some men at work demolishing one and were unable to divine their purpose, as it was too far to carry the material down the valley. They eyed us curiously, for generally tourists have to be satisfied with a sight of the wall from the valley below without accepting the challenge of the topmost tower to make it a call. Soon we encountered another tower and feared our ascent had come to an end. A man lay asleep in a sort of side port hole and inspection showed that workmen had demolished the structure and where the path should have been was a deep chasm. We did hate to be baffled in that way so we aroused the sleeper and he moved out we crept through the narrow way, stifled with dust and refuse. Men were at work on the other side and between us made a pit almost up to our necks, but we jumped into it and motioned the men to help us up, which they obligingly did and that obstacle was passed and the men were pleased with a bit of money I gave them.

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife
a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible. "My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ROMANCE OF PINE RIDGE RESERVATION

Ben Tibbetts, Who Goes West From Philadelphia in Early Days, Marries Into Indian Tribe—James Groves of This City Acquainted With Family.

Sometime ago when the Pine Ridge reservation was being marked off by the government, James Groves of Jacksonville was one of the men who went to South Dakota to see that the boundaries were properly made. While there he became acquainted with the Tibbetts family, who figured so prominently in a romance of the reservation. The story reads as follows:

"An old romance of the reservation back in the days of the tolerant frontier and the open range, has just come to light, and the son of a famous 'squaw man' and a beautiful Indian girl has a last come into his heritage.

"Ben Tibbetts was a Philadelphia horse car driver who enlisted when Lincoln first called for troops, served during the war, and then went with General Sheridan to Montana. After several years' service against the Indians he left the army and drifted into the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota.

Made Much Money.
"Tibbetts now had considerable property gained in trade with the Indians.

"Then he met Alice, the beautiful half-breed daughter of Wahlela, who was a full-blooded Sioux, and of 'Ecoby the French,' who was descended from an old 'vovager.

"Alice was 18 and had inherited her father's good looks. She was living on Clay creek with her mother, Wahlela, and Wahlela's latest consort, Nicholas Janise, representative of the American Fur company in the Black Hills.

"Those were days of easy unions. White men bought and sold squaws in Indian fashion.

Bought Him a Wife.
"Tibbetts bought—not Alice, but her mother, Wahlela, paying Janise many head of cattle and horses. And Alice came with her mother.

"For several years the family kept together. The three lived a life partly Indian and partly civilized. The Tibbetts brand became known from Canada to Texas, and he was the wealthiest 'squaw man' on the Dakota plain. And Alice became the belle of the reservation.

"There was another beautiful half-breed on the reservation Emily Janise, who was bright and spoke English, French and Sioux.

"Tibbetts married her, forsaking Wahlela. And about the same time Alice, courted by cowboys, soldiers and officials, married a commissary department clerk named George White, and went to live with him in government quarters.

Tragedy to Young Wife.
"Then came the tragedy of the beautiful half-breed girl. Five months after the wedding she gave birth to a baby boy. Everybody talked. Some of his associates twitted White about it. He loved the girl, but could not stand the shame of it and deserted her, a broken hearted man.

"Tibbetts then came forward, got Alice to go back with her baby to old Wahlela, and gave Wahlela $50 in cash and 100 head of cattle to care for them.

"Tibbetts would have taken the baby into his own home, but his wife, Emily, hated the boy and threatened to kill him. Wahlela hid him several days in the brush through fear. Alice did not long after return.

Boy Inherits Fortune.
"The boy grew up on the reservation, went to the government school, married and prospered in a modest way. His parentage was always in doubt, though he called himself William White Tibbetts.

"A year ago Tibbetts died and his wife, Emily, followed him. He left a nest-egg of $50,000 in money and numberless cattle and horses still running on the reservation.

"The obvious heir was a half-breed girl that Tibbetts and Emily had adopted. But William White Tibbetts, son of Alice White, asserted his claim, and a Pennington county circuit court jury at Rapid City has just declared him to be the natural son of Ben Tibbetts 'constructively adopted' by him and co-heir to his name and estate."

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

San Francisco will have no Labor Day parade this year.

In New England every man out of work has the right to demand employment upon works of public improvement at the prevailing rate of wages.

An ordinance has been introduced in the city council of LaCrosse, Wis., which provides that any motorman going to work on the street railway shall have 24 days' experience under a competent motorman.

As a result of negotiations between the employers in union shops and officials of the Bradford, England, branch of the Amalgamated Society of Tailors, the wages of workmen have been advanced 5 per cent, and a further increase of 5 per cent is to be made at the beginning of October.

Returns on the strike vote being taken by telegraph operators of the Northern Pacific railway indicate that between 90 and 95 per cent favor striking, according to the statement of union officials. The men are asking increased wages and improved working conditions. No action will be taken by the operators until final results are received.

Indiana lays claim to the distinction of being the greatest center of organized labor in America. At the present time it has the national or international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, International Union of Journeymen Barbers, Masons' International Union, International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, International Typographical Union, National Union of Sawmillers, and the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

RECENT COMMERCIAL EXPANSION UPHELD

EXPANSION IN COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY IS GENERALLY MAINTAINED.

Agricultural Prospects Are Reported Favorable and Confidence Is Sustained, Sentiment Responding to the Improvement in Monetary Situation.

New York, Aug. 22.—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

Recent expansion in commercial activity is generally maintained, although more or less irregularly. It is manifest in reports from the leading trade centers. Movement of merchandise continues liberal and the low position of stocks at all points leads to increased preparations for future requirements. Notwithstanding the deterioration in corn, agricultural prospects are favorable and confidence is fully sustained, sentiment responding to the improvement in the monetary situation.

Enlarged accommodations caused a recession in rates and the forthcoming distribution of government bonds is expected to prevent any financial stringency this fall. The security values were somewhat uncertain, because of conflicting advices from Mexico, yet standard investments show substantial gains over the low point of the year.

Bradstreet's Review.
New York, Aug. 22.—Bradstreet's review tomorrow will say:

Optimism concurrent with good buying furnishing the keynotes for this week's trade report visiting buyers have held sway in most of the country's leading markets and while those from parts of the drought afflicted southwest have operated rather conservatively the general run have bought with more or less liberality. In consequence, house trade, especially in dry goods and allied lines, has broadened perceptibly.

Taken by and large, the situation is encouraging and it is patent that the prolonged policy of buying from hand to mouth has striped shelves as the result of which are action toward rather extensive buying has set in. Advances from textile mill centers indicate that idle machinery is starting up and at the same time complaints of slow deliveries abound.

Business failures for the week ending August 21 were 278, which compares with 264 in 1912.

A FAIR WARNING

Once That Should Be Heeded By Jacksonville Residents.

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. The well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is of ten dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney troubles over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

J. Tankersley, coal dealer, Box No. 7, Alexander, Ill., says: "I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble. They have relieved me of a very severe case of this complaint after several doctors had failed to help me. I was induced to try them after seeing what they had done for a friend. I know that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to all the claims made for them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TELLS OF MURDEROUS RAID ON LAWRENCE, KAN., FIFTY YEARS AGO

Charles S. Gleed, One of the Survivors, Describes Massacre of Non-Combatants in Kansas Town.

Lawrence, Kan., Aug. 22.—Quantrell's guerrillas when, fifty years ago today, they sacked Lawrence and killed nearly 200 of its unarmed inhabitants, committed a deed of murder for which probably no parallel could be found in all the south in civil war days, according to Charles S. Gleed, one of the owners of the Kansas City Journal and former resident of Lawrence, who was the principal speaker at a reunion today of the survivors of the historic Quantrell raid.

Mr. Gleed told how the band of guerrillas organized in Missouri, but consisting largely of Kansas outlaws, burning with fierce hatred for Lawrence, especially because it was the home of many settlers from New England and the middle Atlantic states, broke upon the town at dawn Aug. 21, 1863, and massacred non-combatants unable to lift a hand in their own defense. Mr. Gleed with his widowed mother and a brother came from New England and settled in Lawrence shortly after the civil war.

Infantry appeals published in newspapers along the Missouri-Kansas border in war times were blamed largely by Mr. Gleed for the Lawrence raid.

WILL SAIL TODAY.

Dr. Joseph R. Harker, who has been spending the past two months in England, visiting the scenes of his childhood and taking a much needed rest, will sail from Liverpool today on the Lusitania of the Cunard line and will probably arrive in Jacksonville sometime between the 1st and 3rd of September.

In a card mailed to a Jacksonville friend from London, Aug. 9th, Dr. Harker says: "A week in London and the surrounding country gives me only a glimpse of the possibilities of sight seeing here. Next week it will be Paris, Lucerne and now the Rhine and I expect to sail from Liverpool on the 23rd. I have greatly enjoyed my stay here, but will be glad to be at home again."

VISITED FRIENDS IN KANSAS

Among the Knights Templar who have returned from their western pilgrimage are Dr. R. A. Buckthorpe and W. S. Camp. They stopped off at Lyons, Kan., near which city Mr. Reynolds, an uncle of Dr. Buckthorpe, is living. Mr. Reynolds owns a farm of 400 acres there and quite a large portion of it is in corn this year. However, Mr. Reynolds' prospects are not much better for a crop than is true of his neighbors. It is said, however, that he had the only roasting ears in Rice county. Douglas Pyatt and a number of other former Jacksonville people live in or near Lyons and they were all very cordial in their treatment of Dr. Buckthorpe and Mr. Camp.

Sequel To Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the picture of a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations.

And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best effort can provide. This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend, an external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly relieve every cord, nerve, muscle and tendon involved.

There will be no pain, none of that nausea or morning sickness, no sensation of distress or strain of expanding muscles. The nerves, too, will be calm, thus making the period one of restful days, of peaceful nights and a source of happiest anticipation. The young, expectant mother must be carefully watched lest she become absorbed in those mental distresses which ill prepare her for the most important event in her life. Mother's Friend enables her to avoid all sensation of dread, worry or pain, and thus she is preserved in health and strength to take up the joyful task of motherhood.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Do not fail to use it regularly as directed. Write today to Bradford Regulator Co., 135 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their most valuable little guide book for expectant mothers.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman needs to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

HEAD COVERED WITH DRY SCALE

Hair Came Out. Head Itched and Bled. Could Not Attend School. Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and One Box Cuticura Ointment Cured.

2760 Tamm Ave., St. Louis, Mo.—"My little daughter's head began with a dry harsh scale covering it. First it got a white scale over the top and then it got a dirty brown scab with pus under it. Her hair came out in less than a week and her head itched and bled. She had no rest. I had her wear a scarf all the time, it looked so badly. She was so sore and had such big brown scabs on her head that the teacher would not let her attend school."

"We took and had her treated for three months with no relief. She kept getting worse until I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap every third day and the Cuticura Ointment at night. After three days the scabs began to come off and new hair to come in. In three weeks her head was well of sores. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment completely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. Walter Rogers, Nov. 28, 1912.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clear scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. A single set is often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ATHLETICS CAPTURE SECOND FROM SOX

CLEVER BASE RUNNING AND BUNCHED HITS WINS FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Weaver Fails to Pay Attention To the Umpires and Paves Way To Victory For the Athletics Who
Score Twice in Eighth, Winning 2
To 1.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Quick thinking, clever base running and three bunched hits today gave Philadelphia the second game of the series with Chicago 2 to 1.

Buck Weaver of Chicago paved the way to victory for the league leaders when he failed to pay attention to the umpires. Murphy fled out to start the eighth. Oldring singled and Eddie Collins did likewise, sending Oldring to second. Baker fled out and Oldring took third. Collins then stole second and Weaver taking Schalk's perfect throw, went to the ground with Collins safe on the base. Oldring remained calm on third while Weaver lay there thinking Collins was out. Weaver rose and then rolled the ball in the direction of the pitcher's box and Oldring quick as a flash darted home with the tying run. Molniss followed with a single and Collins came home with the winning run.

RED SOX DEFEAT NAPS IN PITCHER'S BATTLE 2 TO 1

Belated Rally in the Ninth Produces
Cleveland's Only Run—Boston
Scores in Fifth and Seventh.

Cleveland, Aug. 22.—Boston won again today from Cleveland 2 to 1. It was a pitcher's battle in which honors were even between Bedient and Gregg but Boston scored its first run in the fifth inning. It looked like a shutout for Cleveland until the ninth. Then a belated rally produced one run and for a while it looked as though the score might be tied. With two on bases and one out, Johnston drove a terrific liner to right which Hooper caught and Jackson was doubled off second.

TIGERS AND YANKS DIVIDE HONORS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Detroit Knocks Ford Off the Mount in First and Wins 7 to 4—New York Takes Second 12 to 7.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—After leading the first game of a double header today to Detroit 7 to 4, because the Tigers knocked Russell Ford off the mound in less than four innings, New York won the second 12 to 7. In the last game, North a recruit, when he was not issuing passes was yielding base hits.

Schulz in the second game shut out Detroit until Cobb's daring base running broke New York's defense.

New York, Aug. 22.—New York won from Chicago 8 to 1 today. Cheney was wild in the third inning when the champions scored three runs. Vaughn, a former member of the New York Americans, who is trying to come back with Chicago, was not hit hard, but the champions bunched their three hits with his two passes for four runs.

Tesreau, the New York pitcher, was very wild, but the Chicago batsmen could not hit him with men on bases.

Herzog made two doubles and a single in four times up and was responsible for five of the New York runs, driving in two and scoring three. Five bases were stolen on Archer. The score:

REDS WIN SECOND FROM SUPERBAS

Through Allen's Wildness and Rucker's Ineffectiveness Cincinnati Wins 7 to 2.

Brooklyn, Aug. 22.—Cincinnati made it two straight with Brooklyn today, winning by 7 to 2 through Allen's wildness and Rucker's ineffectiveness. Allen left Rucker a full house with nobody out in the third inning through passing Johnston and Bescher and hitting Bates and Esan greeted Rucker with a single, sending two runs across.

After disposing of Marsans and Holbert in the sixth Rucker grew careless and Cincinnati scored three runs on five hits. The score:

TIMLEY HITTING WINS FOR BOSTON

Doak Is Wild and Five Errors by St. Louis Also Aid Braves to Win Game 9 to 1.

Boston, Aug. 21.—The Boston batted timely today and the locals easily defeated St. Louis 9 to 1. Doak, who started the pitching for the visitors, was wild and errors by St. Louis infielders allowed the locals to score. Geyer, the relief pitcher, also was batted hard. The score:

R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	100 000 000—1	7 5
Boston	201 004 02—9	10 2

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES

Christy Mathewson is pie for Fred Clarke's Pirates; but Johnny Evers' Chublets are like money from home to "Big Six."

Governor McGovern of Wisconsin has named the boxing commission, a body which will look after all of the boxing matches to be pulled off in the Badger state under the recently enacted ten-round, no-decision law. The governor it appears has acted wisely in his selection of the members of the commission, having appointed a physician chairman of the body, Dr. C. W. Morter of Milwaukee. The law calls for a rigid physical examination of all boxers before they are permitted to don the gloves, as a means of at least minimizing the chances of fatalities in the encounters. The commission will serve without compensation.

SHANTUNG PROVINCE ABOUNDS IN INTEREST

Rev. Charles Eames of Presbyterian Foreign Missionary Society Doing Good Work in China—Visit to Missionary Schools.

(By S. W. Nichols.)

The work is indeed interesting and is growing right along and those in charge can see the fruits of their labors and know they are having an important part in the upbuilding of this great nation. It must be through the efforts of such people as these that China will ever take her place among the nations of the world, for the pupils of all others are more or less tainted with dishonesty and prejudice, while the pupils of the mission school and colleges are men of intelligence and ability, trained for places of usefulness and importance.

Mr. Field has recently introduced into the boys' school athletics and we had the pleasure of seeing them practice. Of course their work is only that of beginners and their facilities are not of the best, but still they do very creditable work. Mr. Ewert put on a pair of racing shoes and gave them some exhibitions of hurdle racing and showed that he had not forgotten his college training and elicited loud applause from his audience. The boys are training for an athletic meet, which will be the first thing of the kind ever known in this section of China and they are looking forward to it with enthusiasm.

The City.

We took a walk in the city and found it rather cleaner than some we have visited and occasionally there was a wider street. There is also a canal which was once part of a national highway, but which has not been kept up as it should be, though it is yet much used. We noticed one place where it passes through a narrow place and saw that when they wanted water above they placed some boards behind the stone wall and had it. We visited an inclosure which had formerly been used for temple purposes, but at the time was occupied by soldiers. In it was an iron pagoda thirteen stories high, each story being about three feet. During the Tai Ping rebellion an officer left with a priest of the temple a large sum of money for safe keeping and was relieved when the war was over to get it back and he placed a tablet in honor of the holy man. The city has 200,000 to 225,000 inhabitants.

A Morning Walk.

One pleasant morning I took a memorable walk which made a deep impression on my mind. First with Mrs. Lyon I visited the girls' school, that time in company also with the ladies and then with Mrs. Thompson only I had the pleasure of seeing something of her work among the families of the vicinity and through them also gained an idea of the whole field she covers and it is wide. But first let me tell something of a child I saw at the girls' school. She was a little mite, 12 years old and small for her age. When she was a baby her parents betrothed her, though she continued to live with them and finally they became Christians. They sent her to school and she had a wonderful memory, so that at the age of nine she could repeat the whole of the new testament and that in the Chinese language is no small task. She could say that which could start in at any place and go on with it.

She continued in school, but alas, would like to leave. Her parents would like to have her continue, but the family of her betrothed are not converted to the true religion, so the mother of her husband to be insists that she leave school and be married. To her husband's home, have her poor little feet bound and suffer all manner of torture. There is nothing that can be done to help it, for in this land betrothal is looked on about as sacred as marriage.

Mrs. Thompson is a remarkable lady and it is pleasant to wish such a person and I only wish I might give an adequate description of the morning. Here is a place little more than a den, and walls and not high enough nearly for a person to stand in erect, yet there is a family consisting of parents and two children. We look in, but they seem not to be at home and we go to another place which presents a vivid contrast, for it is the home of an inspector of schools and the gentleman is at home and greets us cordially. Here are some of the comforts of life and all is neat and clean. Here is another and here too we find better conditions and the home of a man who is a teacher in the government schools. Like many of her race, the wife wants to know my age and is much pleased when I tell her.

In every home where there is any pretense of a home at all there is opposite the door a table and on each side a chair and I am always referred to the one at the left facing the door, as my gray hair entitles me to the seat of honor. Here is another abode, the home of a good sized family, all one apartment. We look about and see in the remote side the affair on which the family all slept. Here are some of the comforts of life as the man is a carpenter and able to earn good wages when he gets work. It is delightful to see how the faces of the people light up as they greet Mrs. Thompson, who is such a valued friend. The women are studying the scriptures and love their teacher. At the door a crowd gathers, curious to see the foreigners and when Mrs. Thompson produced her Bible and suggests devotions people scatter respectfully. In sweet tones she reads in the native language one word from the precious book and offers a short prayer. At all the places I am asked to leave a message, which I am glad to do and I must say I never felt less worthy than on the occasion of these calls, for when it was explained that I was a newspaper man from America the people on whom we called felt especially honored and when I gave my age they were wholly overwhelmed. How delightful it must be even with all its hardships and privations to carry the word and sow the good seed in this manner and when the presence of the good lady is regarded as a benediction her heart must be full of joy.

The Hospital.

The hospital conducted by Dr. Lyon is a fine one, though not as well equipped as he would like. Like Dr. Kinear at Foochow he has to do all sorts of work, from treating mild cases of malaria to removing a cataract or any kind of difficult surgery. I spent a while there one day at clinic hour and was touched by the congregation of suffering humanity waiting for treatment. They came in with sores, skin diseases, tuberculosis, carbuncles, ulcers and all kinds of maladies and the kind and able physician gave each one what was needed and I thought what a true follower of the great Physician of souls he was.

A Great Pickle and Food Factory.
One afternoon we had the pleasure of visiting one of the largest food and pickle establishments in the country and I doubt if there is one of the kind much larger in our own land. The company has four plants in this place, but the one we saw was the main one. The plant we saw occupied thirty acres and does an enormous business. The general manager is a man of fine ability and great business experience and a general in managing men, of whom they employ several hundred. He received us most cordially and invited us to a kind of reception room, where we were the recipients of great honor. Mrs. Ewert and I were asked to the seats of special honor, Mrs. Ewert at the right side of the table which faces the door, and I at the left, owing to my age.

We were served with tea and a large tray of confectionery and cakes, the product of the establishment was placed before us. I tasted part of them and Mr. Ewert tried nearly all and we agreed they were excellent and there were many of them. The manager has highly esthetic tastes, for he first took great pride in showing us his flowers, of which he had a lot in different places. The works are in scattered sheds all over the place, though the buildings do not take up half the space, that being more largely devoted to huge bowls three feet in diameter and almost three feet deep, covered with conical bamboo matting covers water tight. In these bowls will be found all manner of things, green goods or stock and other material in process of manufacture or finished ready to be bottled. The manager said they had in use in the plants of the city, of which this was the principal one, between thirty and forty thousand of these bowls and it looks as if the sun does a good part of the work of preparing the goods for the market.

The company makes a great amount of pickles, sauces, relishes, special foods, confectionery and similar products, some of which are dear to the celestial palate, but would not be to ours. There were a good many courts about the place and in them were many flowers, some in pots and some in the ground and the manager took pains to say that one court was hardly in good order, as he had not possession of it very long. The manner of manufacture is primitive and requires much help. A mill for grinding is like those we saw often in the country. It consists of a large circular stone four or five feet in diameter and twenty inches thick. On each side of this another stone about twenty inches long and fourteen in diameter is rolled about the outer edge and being held in place by an arrangement in the center and moved either way by man or animal power.

Large cauldrons warmed in primitive furnaces were steaming and two men were turning a mill which I suppose was making bean cake. The main work seemed to be to be done by the sun in the big bowls scattered all over the place and holding an enormous amount of matter.

After we had seen a great deal, the manager going with us but sending a guide ahead, we were taken to his residence, which is within the compound, and again treated to tea and both times the beverage was offered us I did violence to my feelings by taking some sparingly. From a bed of lovely flowers the servants picked Mrs. Ewert a fine bouquet and presented it to her with many bows of the polite kind. We were then ushered in and again Mrs. Ewert and I were taken to the seats of honor, where we felt doubly lifted up. We left with many thanks for the honor and courtesy shown us and Dr. Lyon says in times past they have sent to such callers as we several samples of goods, but they were not useable by the recipients. They treated us the same way, only they sent mostly pickled goods, which I didn't like and they left out the confectionery.

A Chinese Dinner.

One day our good hostess, Mrs. Lyon, treated us to a genuine Chinese dinner, such as would be served by a gentleman of liberal means. Now it is to be well understood that Chinese etiquette is very strict, but unlike our own. Each guest is provided with chopsticks and a spoon and is expected to help himself from the various dishes on the table. We had 26 dishes in all and Mrs. Lyon said the number was not great for a gentleman of somewhat large means. I must admit I had hardly arrived at the perfection stage in the use of chopsticks, though the others handled them fairly well.

And now let us take a brief survey of the articles which were before us. Those things that look like the head of a Hamptons Dumpty, only somewhat smaller, are excellent unleavened steamed bread and the circular affairs close by are baked bread, also decidedly palatable. That nondescript dish of scraps is hot fried chicken and its mate is the same cold, and those small, delicate slices are of the same fowl. Don't be afraid of those dubious looking balls, for they are chicken too and the others near by are of pork and those slices looking so strange are pork also. Here is something that looks a bit like excelsior, but in reality it is shredded chicken, steaming hot and if you like it better cold

SUMMER MEETING OF HORTICULTURAL CLUB

ILLINOIS STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS AT ANNA.

Society Holds Summer Meeting of Two Days and Profitable Time Spent in Visiting Orchards and Towns in the Vicinity of Anna Studying the Great Variety of Crops Raised Thereabouts.

(By E. B. Powell.)

It was a happy thought on the part of the Illinois Horticultural Society in voting to hold a summer meeting at Anna, Ill., on Wednesday and Thursday, July 30 and 31. It was very much of a surprise to many of the visitors from the northern part of Illinois to learn of the great possibilities of the country immediately around Anna. There is a great variety of scenery as well as a great variety of crops produced in that vicinity.

The local committee in charge of arrangements headed by Mr. W. W. Thomas, of Anna, had made arrangements so complete that events came off with smoothness and nearly on schedule time. On the morning of July 30 twenty-seven automobiles containing about one hundred and thirty-five people left Anna for the purpose of visiting nearby orchards and towns. The first stop was made at Colden, where a brief inspection was made of the Lawrence barrel factory. The next place visited by the society was the 300-acre orchard of the Lamer brothers. The following facts will give some idea of the extent to which orcharding is carried on in this part of Illinois. The Lamer brothers have just completed harvesting a 30-acre apple orchard, from which they have shipped 41 cars of apples; many of these cars of apples have been sold on the track, Pittsburg being the chief market. It was told to the writer that Lamer brothers had sold late last winter one car of Wine-saps for $1,600.

Besides their own orchard they have leased 200 acres in other places. The varieties from the 30-acre orchard just harvested were chiefly Red Streak and Bononi. A most generous lunch was served in the apple orchard to the entire party. In the afternoon of the same day the travelers visited several other orchards going up to Alto Pass, and during a mountain storm they gathered in a wooded spot and listened to several speeches—one by J. C. B. Heaton of New Brunswick on "Soil Treatment for Orchards"; this was followed by a brief talk by Mr. J. J. Gardner of the University of Illinois.

On Thursday the same number visited the 200 acres of strawberries of Mr. W. W. Thomas, of Anna. Mr. Thomas raised strawberry plants for sale. In a testing plot he showed us there were 260 varieties. He raises on an average of about thirty million plants a year and sells them from Florida to California in the United States, to the Bermuda and adjacent islands.

The visit of the Illinois Horticultural Society was a perpetual delight; seeing the orchards and visiting the vegetable plots and entertainment interspersed made it on the whole a very delightful and profitable meeting. The credit of this belongs not only to the president and secretary of the society, but to the local committee who had the carrying out of the arrangements.

Question: I am farming an 80-acre farm in Illinois. At present I have a fine milk cow, and ten head of young stock of mixed breeding, but mostly Short Horn. I make and sell butter at 35 cents a pound to private customers. I can always dispose of any calves or cows at a good price, for beef. The question is: Would it pay to sell my present herd and invest the money in pure bred Holsteins. I know they are splendid dairy cows, but considering everything, are they best for the ordinary farm. In order to keep my farm up to its present state of fertility I wish to feed all the hay and grain raised, and on account of help I can milk out two cows. Are Holsteins more liable to disease than other breeds?

Answer: Replying to your inquiry concerning the advisability of changing your breed of cattle, will say that it is a question which one person cannot satisfactorily decide for another. However, there are some things to be considered which will be of help to you in making your decision.

In the first place it is generally conceded that the best results are gotten where an animal is kept strictly for dairy or beef purposes. In your case, with a good market for your butter, I should be inclined to say that it would be very desirable to keep cows that are large butter fat producers.

One of the best ways of making the change would be to obtain a few well bred grade or pure bred animals, including a good sire, and raise the heifers to maturity. In the selection of cows, it is difficult to always tell from appearance what one is to expect unless records of their production and pedigrees can be obtained, which are of great help in making selections. The fact that an animal is apure bred is not of much significance unless it is backed by good production record.

One should be very careful where he purchases his animals, since it is very essential that they be free from disease. The physical condition of the herd where purchases are being made is an important factor in this connection. As far as we know there is no difference in breeds as to their taking of diseases.

It is difficult for one person to decide for another the question of the breed which he should use for dairy purposes. Holsteins produce a large amount of milk which has a low butter fat content. Jerseys and Guernseys produce milk in smaller quantities which has a higher butter fat content. Records seem to show that Jerseys and Guernseys are capable of producing butter fat more economically than Holsteins, but when the value of the skim milk for feeding purposes is included, the average production per unit of food consumed was about the same for each breed. Where one has an abundance of roughage such as alfalfa hay and corn silage and wishes to make these feeds the bulk of his ration supplementing with a small amount of grain, the Holstein is preferable.

Here at the station we keep representative individuals of the four dairy breeds; namely, Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys and Ayrshires. R. S. Hulce, Dairy Department, University of Illinois.

Now it isn't that the woman is exactly to blame that her problem has been rather evaded. The average housekeeper is merely the average woman. All will agree, particularly those who have not done it, that it requires no special intelligence or talent to marry the average man. When the man stuttered after the preacher, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow" she was supposed to be also endowed with that made her cooking capable. One endowment was about as much a myth as the other—nothing in either of them. But would the average man without oversight, without the stimulation of competition, without fear of losing his job do better in his work than the average woman in her home has? Probably not as well, for it is a fact that women have responded to the leaders in the campaign for better housekeeping—and less of it. For that is exactly what it means when we keep house scientifically. That foods and their values and the needs of the body understood, mean the discarding of much that before seemed necessary; that keeping a clean house actually requires less time than "clearing up" spells; as old Dinah in Uncle Tom's Cabin called them; that a stove understood is a friend instead of a fiend; that when we furnish our house for our own sake instead of furnishing the neighbors with a polite topic of conversation, we shall lessen our dusting and won't have half the trash to care for.

We are coming to a new era, which may sound bromide, but is nevertheless true. The business of being married has for many centuries required on the part of women the bamboozling of men. Poetry has exalted the bamboozling; novels revealed in it. Such ladies as were too noble and lofty to bamboozle their consorts "pleased" them, which was almost worse. Many a man has been "pleased" into his grave, for most of them like to over eat. The world has now advanced to the place where a woman is going to have to put her work where it will stand the test of results—and nowhere will the quality of her work show more clearly than in her home.

CHARACTERISTICS OF GOOD BREED.

(By Isabel Bevier, Department of Household Science, University of Illinois.)

It is perhaps well at this point to give what are regarded as the characteristics of a good loaf of bread. Authorities, as Simon's Book of Bread, Jago's Technology of Bread Making, and United States government report, agree quite generally in the characteristics of good bread.

1. Symmetry of Shape—Size such that the crust will not be baked too hard in order to bake the crumb thoroughly. It is just at this point that the busy housewife often fails. In her desire to get a large quantity of bread ready for the workmen who are with her, she used the dripping pan, puts into it three loaves so as to gain space in the oven, and does not realize that in order to bake the center loaf the heat must penetrate that mass of moist dough, which is not nearly as good a conductor of heat as the metal of the pan which is on the bottom and sides of the end loaves, so as a frequent result, the end loaves are scorched before the middle one is baked.

Better results in baking can be attained by the use of smaller pans which can be moved about because most ovens have a different temperature in the center than at the edges, and if single pans are used, or, at most, those which hold but two loaves, a more even crust and a better baked crumb can be obtained; and it is to be remembered that the crust is the most easily digested part of the bread, and that under done soggy crumb is very indigestible.

2. Crust—As regards the crust, there is considerable difference of opinion regarding the depth or color. Some preferring a deep golden brown, others a very light shade, but all like a uniform color over the whole loaf and a certain crisp quality obtained from a slack dough well aerated and quickly baked.

Summons says: "These surface cracks or lines are a sign of quality and are formed usually when the dough is cooling and give the crackling sound regarded as a sign of good bread. A tough, leathery crust may mean an immature dough, that is dough not sufficiently fermented; or a crust rendered thick and hard by a cold oven. A crackly, pliable, thin crust indicates a superior loaf."

3. Crumb—Many qualities are demanded of the crumb of good bread. It must feel and look light, have the gas cavities evenly distributed and of small size with thin and delicate cell walls. Bakers say that the gas cavities should be oblong in shape rather than round. There must be no heavy streaks at the sides or bottom of the loaf, no marks of bad kneading or chilling. There must be elasticity, so that the part will resume its original shape after pressure is removed. The crumb must be tender, neither crumbly nor doughy. As said before, creaminess in color is to be preferred to whiteness, and, above all, good bread should have the flavor of wheat grain—should give the characteristic taste of the wheat grain when chewed.

Learning the Pure Bred Business.

A beginner in the pure bred live stock business has a good many things to learn. He should first of all realize that it takes a period of years to build up a reputation that will enable him to sell his stock to advantage. When breeding pure bred dairy cattle the sale of dairy products should be counted upon to pay the running expenses and then when the herd is so far developed, and the reputation of the breeder sufficiently established so that it is possible to sell breeding stock to advantage, the income from the breeding stock is additional profit.

Beginners in the pure bred live stock business should understand that first of all he must have a good herd, and next he must bring it to the attention of the people. There are various ways of doing this. Some find it advisable to exhibit their stock at their local fairs and at the state fair. Others do not exhibit, but depend upon advertising in agricultural papers. Still another, and the best methods of all, for the young breeder to follow in making a reputation, is to keep milk and butter records and carry on official tests, then keep the public informed as to what he is doing along this line by using the advertising columns of the agricultural press.

A breeder with unlimited capital can attract attention to himself and his herd by the purchase of a bull costing up into the thousands, or a famous cow at a long price. The small breeder with limited capital should not undertake to imitate this type of speculation, neither should he count too much on selling his stock by reflected glory in the way of having an animal at the head of his herd that is a descendant of a high priced animal owned by someone else.

The main opportunity for the beginner with pure bred cattle in bringing his herd before the public is by making official year's records of his cows, and in this respect he has an equal advantage with the millionaire breeder who breeds cattle for recreation and not as a business. There is plenty of room in the Mississippi valley, and will be in the next 25 years, for many herds of high class pure bred cattle. It will take probably ten years for a breeder to thoroughly establish himself. If he goes at it in the right way by keeping records of the production all the time, and eliminating the poor animals, he will soon have a herd of merit, and will gradually build a reputation as a breeder that will last his lifetime.

The fact that an animal has registration papers does not necessarily make it any more valuable, nor does it insure any more milk than from a good grade. In the case with an inferior animal, it may not add a single dollar to its selling price. However, if the animal be one of merit, the fact that it is registered, does add materially to its value, and especially to the value of its offspring to be used for breeding purposes. Pure bred registered dairy cows will sell for $50 to $100 more than grade animals, if they are good milk producers and well bred. Ordinarily, inferior registered animals rightly command no higher price than a grade.

PROBLEMS OF THE DAIRY BREEDER

BEGINNERS SHOULD NOT EXPECT TOO MUCH FROM PURE BRED CATTLE.

Disappointment Often Follows From the Fact that a Man Without Any Reputation and Experience Usually Finds a Limited Market for His Young Stock, Especially the Males.

(By C. H. Eckles, Professor of Dairy Husbandry, University of Missouri.)

Who Should Breed Pure Bred Cattle.

The great mass of cattle that supply the market with dairy products is and should be, grade rather than pure bred. It is not everyone who is situated to undertake the breeding of pure bred cattle and it would be a mistake to over-emphasize this line of farming. In fact, it is more often when he goes to purchase a bull, spending too much money, and expecting too much from pure bred cattle, than it is to urge them to take up this line.

The farmer or owner of grade cattle and without experience, is asked perhaps from $100 to $200 for a well bred animal of good ancestry. This looks to him like an extravagant price and he reasons to himself that he might as well buy some registered cows and raise a few animals of this kind himself. The mistake he makes, however, is assuming that he will be able to sell his pure bred calves readily for a price equal to that realized by the breeder from whom he buys his stock.

Disappointment often follows from the fact that a man without any reputation and without any experience, finds a very limited market for his young stock, especially the males, and if he sells them at all, it is at a figure that there is little in it to encourage him.

The fact that an animal has registration papers does not necessarily make it any more valuable, nor does it insure any more milk than from a good grade. A breeder with unlimited capital can attract attention to himself and his herd by the purchase of a bull costing up into the thousands, or a famous cow at a long price. The small breeder with limited capital should not undertake to imitate this type of speculation, neither should he count too much on selling his stock by reflected glory in the way of having an animal at the head of his herd that is a descendant of a high priced animal owned by someone else.

The main opportunity for the beginner with pure bred cattle in bringing his herd before the public is by making official year's records of his cows, and in this respect he has an equal advantage with the millionaire breeder who breeds cattle for recreation and not as a business. There is plenty of room in the Mississippi valley, and will be in the next 25 years, for many herds of high class pure bred cattle. It will take probably ten years for a breeder to thoroughly establish himself. If he goes at it in the right way by keeping records of the production all the time, and eliminating the poor animals, he will soon have a herd of merit, and will gradually build a reputation as a breeder that will last his lifetime.

The fact that an animal has registration papers does not necessarily make it any more valuable, nor does it insure any more milk than from a good grade. In the case with an inferior animal, it may not add a single dollar to its selling price. However, if the animal be one of merit, the fact that it is registered, does add materially to its value, and especially to the value of its offspring to be used for breeding purposes. Pure bred registered dairy cows will sell for $50 to $100 more than grade animals, if they are good milk producers and well bred. Ordinarily, inferior registered animals rightly command no higher price than a grade.

What's become of the gran'pa that used to wear his whiskers so as to cover the necktie place?

It's always the other fellow's salary that looks big.

KEINELS FROM THE CORNBELT.

Some men are sharp as tacks and other men don't find it out until they try to sit down on them.

Learning the Pure Bred Business.

A beginner in the pure bred live stock business has a good many things to learn. He should first of all realize that it takes a period of years to build up a reputation that will enable him to sell his stock to advantage. When breeding pure bred dairy cattle the sale of dairy products should be counted upon to pay the running expenses and then when the herd is so far developed, and the reputation of the breeder sufficiently established so that it is possible to sell breeding stock to advantage, the income from the breeding stock is additional profit.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

MARKET DECLINES AND THEN SLOWLY RECOVERS

LEADING SHARES ARE CLOSE TO PREVIOUS DAY'S QUOTATIONS AT END OF SESSION.

Market Recovers Its Losses Principally on Account of Short Covering, but Reports of Rains in Sections of the Corn and Cotton Belts Is Also a Factor.

New York, Aug. 22.—A slow recovery which carried down a dozen or more stocks from 1 to 2 points to day was succeeded by an equally slow recovery and at the end of the session the leading shares were close to yesterday's final quotations. The day passed without important news concerning affairs upon which most emphasis is placed and there was consequently a general disinclination to do much speculation.

Selling on the decline was concentrated on Steel, Union Pacific and Reading and the heaviness of these shares affected the remainder. There were no signs of weakness, however, and shorts grew uneasy. It was due principally to short covering that the market recovered its losses. Reports of rains in sections of the corn and cotton belts helped to bring about the recovery. Affairs in Mexico occupied less attention today for the reason that there was no news of importance from across the border. Reports of a record breaking foreign trade for July and the last year passed almost unheeded.

DILLON AXWORTHY WINS FEATURE RACE

PENNSYLVANIA COLT CAPTURES RACE FOR THREE YEAR OLD TROTTERS.

Murphy's String of Victories Unbroken When Marigold Is Returned a Winner in the 2:09 Trot—Judson Girl Takes 2:18 Trot.

Salem, N. H., Aug. 22.—Three stake events for trotters were on the card at Rockingham Park today. The feature race was the 3 year old trotting division of the American Horse Breeder Futurity, worth $6,000, which was won by the Pennsylvania colt, Dillon Axworthy.

Tom Murphy kept up his winning career in the 2:09 trot in which Marigold won. In the 2:18 trot Judson Girl was returned the winner.

Great Western Circuit.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 22.—A duel in which Irene Beau won over Charley R. in the 2:30 pace proved the feature of the opening day of the Great Western Circuit races.

In the first two heats Irene Beau broke and Charley R. finished ahead, but in the third the order was reversed. Irene Beau also took the last two heats straight, setting the pace from the start.

Results.

2:30 pace (hopples barred); purse $500: Irene Beau, won; Charley R., second; Bessie W., third. Best time, 2:12 1-4.

Two year old pace; purse $500: Happy Pearl, won; Roy Enslow, second; Charlie R. C. D., third. Best time, 1:55 1-2.

Two year old trot, half mile; purse $500: Cloverdale, won; Peter Vanhook, second; Ray Templeton, third. Best time, 1:09 1-2.

At Galesburg.

Galesburg, Aug. 22.—Probably the last Great Western circuit meeting to be held in this city under the auspices of the Galesburg Driving Park association was brought to a close today. In coming years the races will be managed by the district fair association.

Some excitement was caused at the race track today when it was learned that legal action had been started against the officers of the driving park association for permitting open gambling on the races by the law enforcement committee of the Galesburg local option association. It was expected that Sheriff Seaman would close the betting booths under orders from the state's attorney, but nothing of the sort happened and the bookies placed their bets.

The race program furnished thrills in every heat and fast time for both trotting and pacing.

Summaries.

2:10 trot; purse $500: Pee-Wee, first; Aquill, second; Frank L., third. (No time given.)

2:09 pace; purse $500: Cinnamon, first; Last-at-Law, second; Kewanee Queen, third. Time, 2:07 1-4.

2:13 trot; purse $500: Tobe Woods, first; Adanzel, second; Alva Dillon, third. (No time given.)

CORN CROP WILL BE LIGHT BUT PRICE HIGH.
Total Returns May Not Be Far Below Normal—Travelers Tell of Kansas Conditions—A Corn Field Burned.

While it is no doubt true that the corn crop in Morgan county has been cut way down because of the continued dry weather, there are a good many farmers who believe that there will be a good half crop here. Indications are, too, that the price will be so high that a half crop will in dollars and cents not fall very far short of crop returns in other years accounted better. As happiness and other good things are comparative anyhow it will be well for Morgan county farmers who feel a little down hearted to think about their fellow agriculturists out in Kansas. Every traveler through the Sunflower state in the past few weeks has been greatly impressed with a terrific drought which has prevailed there. As one looks out of a car window it is the common thing to see farmers going along the road with their wagons loaded with barrels of water which they are hauling to take care of their stock. This is necessary, although there is not a great deal of stock now in the state, vast numbers of cattle having been hurried into market on account of the continued dry weather. There are fields after fields of corn which is literally withered and dried up and which is of no possible use except for fodder. Some of it is so extremely dry and parched that it is not very good fodder and one Jacksonville man who recently traveled through Kansas, witnessed the unusual sight of a big corn field on fire. He said that he had seen stubblefields in flames a great many times, but never before had he known of a field of corn so dry and withered that it would take fire, from a locomotive spark.

W. B. Otwell, who was in Jacksonville yesterday to make an address at the chautauqua, is an agriculturist of some note and in talking about Kansas and crop conditions said to a friend here that he had just returned from a trip which took him 100 miles across that state and that during all that distance he had not seen a field of corn which even showed good nubbins on the withered stalks.

"NED" GREEN IS 45.
New York, Aug. 22.—E. H. R. Green, only son of Mrs. Hetty Green and prospective heir to the bulk of the enormous fortune possessed by his mother, reached his 45th birthday anniversary today. Despite the fact that some day in all probability he will be one of the wealthiest men of America, Mr. Green is a modest and unassuming man who works hard and indulges in few hobbies. The past few years he has made his home in this city, looking after some of the great financial interests of his mother, though he continues to spend a part of each year in Texas, where he is interested in railroads and other enterprises. Mr. Green is unmarried.

Confidence Well Founded.
The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. For sale by all dealers. Adv.

MELVILLE E. STONE'S 65TH BIRTHDAY.
New York, Aug. 22.—Many congratulatory messages were received at 255 Broadway today to remind Melville E. Stone of his 65th birthday anniversary. Mr. Stone, who has been the active head of the Associated Press for the past twenty years, is a product of the west, having been born in the town of Hudson, Ill. His boyhood was spent in Chicago and in that city he started his career as a newspaper reporter in 1864. After rising to the editor's desk Mr. Stone helped to found the Chicago Daily News in 1875. He disposed of his interests in 1888 and after a three years' vacation in Europe he returned to join the forces of the Associated Press.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT IS SUGGESTED FOR NEXT SPRING

Could Be Made Very Attractive—Other Places Have Found Them Helpful in Developing Community Spirit.

The special success which attended the recent play festival and the added success of the chautauqua parade Friday has made timely and interesting discussion of a historical pageant for Jacksonville. For a number of months Frank J. Hehl, who is thoroughly versed in local lore and in Illinois history has had it in his mind that a Jacksonville pageant could be made into a splendid thing if twenty-five or thirty citizens were to form some sort of an organization and undertake the project.

Idea Popular in New England.
It would be necessary to make months of preparation for such an event, but the possibilities are great. Chicago had such pageant and while of course it was on a scale which could not be attempted by a smaller city, the same idea has been carried out very effectively in a number of cities in other states, particularly in New England. In Illinois, Peoria is the only down state city which has attempted anything of the kind and W. I. Tilton, who happened to be there a month or six weeks ago, at the time of the pageant, described it as something beautiful and of value not only in attracting people to the city, but also in the development of city pride and of real community spirit.

That the residents of New England cities and towns where such pageants have been features for several years, take an interest in them was proven quite clearly recently when a Jacksonville physician, who happened to be in North Thefort, Vt., met a lady from this city who had traveled all the way there, to her former home in order to be present during the days of the pageant. Community Spirit Improves.

In that locality the towns are so close together that in a number of instances there have been combinations of those interested, in several towns in arranging for and staging the pageants. It is claimed that a number of instances have been recorded where these pageants have proven very effective in developing community interest. Towns and hamlets which have for years gone along with unpleasant strife, after they united with their neighbors in pageant programs buried their differences, really forgot them, as they became interested in common enterprises.

Mr. Hehl's idea is that a pageant might be arranged for in Jacksonville during the commencement season. The local educational institutions, the various lodges and other organizations would be expected to take a very active part in such an affair. While the purpose would not primarily be financial, it would be entirely possible to make the pageant so attractive and have it extend through a series of days, that many visitors would come to the city and so have an effect upon local business conditions. If the schools and colleges and lodges were to take up such a plan there could be no doubt as to its success from the point of mere pageantry.

Plenty of Local Themes.
The floats in the parade Friday morning gave some idea of what could be accomplished in this line if preparations were made far in advance and if development of certain definite ideas were worked out. As Mr. Hehl has noted there are plenty of themes in the history of Jacksonville, in this section of the state and of the whole state which could be worked out very effectively. Working along this line the schools and colleges would certainly have some very fruitful ideas for their expression and exemplification. It would undoubtedly cost something to stage a pageant along lines at all extensive, but if a goodly number of persons took an active interest in the preparations, the expenses could be held down in a very satisfactory way.

Flower Parades of Other Years.
Many citizens will remember the flower parades given here years ago with such fine effect when prizes were offered for the most handsomely decorated vehicle. At that time there were many buggies and carriages which were made beautiful indeed with tissue paper floral effects designed somewhat after the real floral parades of California. Then no definite plan or idea was carried out in any large way, each vehicle owner developing any special idea which occurred to him. Yet even without any special organization the effect was beautiful and the parade was a delight to the eye and a source of uplift. With an organization making months of preparation and developing some large theme, a pageant could certainly be made a thing of vast beauty and the idea is certainly well worth some serious consideration.

THE ARRIVAL OF COOLER WEATHER.
Although the drop in temperature yesterday may not be of long duration it was none the less appreciated by pleasure seekers as well as workers. For the opening of Jacksonville's educational festival, no finer day could have been desired. A drop of 18 degrees from the previous day was recorded by the self-registering government thermometer at Alexander, the maximums for Thursday and Friday having been respectively, 100 and 82 degrees and the minimum temperatures 71 and 65 for the two days.

PICNIC DATES.

This is the time of the year when the various churches and other organizations of the community are planning for their annual picnics, chicken fries, watermelon picnics and ice cream socials. Thus far only a few dates have been announced and the Journal will be glad to add others to the list:

Aug. 23 (Saturday)—Zion church burgeo picnic, southeast of Murrayville.

Aug. 27 (Wednesday), Woodson watermelon picnic.

Aug. 28 (Thursday)—Annual fish and chicken fry, Chapin Christian church.

Aug. 28 (Thursday)—Alexander M. E. church all day picnic and evening chicken fry.

BUILDING BUNGALOW.

William Farrington has a force of men busy erecting a bungalow for Winfield Scott on West Lafayette avenue. The house faces the north and is at the corner of Chesnut street on the property recently purchased by Mr. Scott extending from Lafayette avenue to State street.

$3.50 excursion to Kansas City August 29th via Chicago & Alton. The Only Way.

RETURNS TO SOUTHERN HOME

WOMEN AND DRINK HABIT

Women who are discouraged with trying to sober up drinking husbands and who contemplate divorce proceedings, should investigate the Neal Drink Habit Treatment, which is a safe, sure, vegetable remedy that will remove the craving for drink in three days, without the use of hypodermic injections. Hundreds of women are now living happy lives because they sent their drinking husbands to the Neal Institute, 811 East Forty-ninth street, Chicago, or at Springfield, Ill., or Omaha, Neb., or give them the Neal Home Treatment. The Neal Home Treatment is administered at sixty Neal Institutes in the United States, Canada and Australia, and has made thousands of sober men out of hopeless drunkards. It will also save your husbands. Call and get proof and references, or write or phone for book of information. DRUG HABIT SUCCESSFULLY TREATED.

WILLIAM LEDFRED MEETS WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Falls From Load of Baled Straw and Is Run Over by Heavy Wagon—Is Patient at Our Savior's Hospital.

William Ledefred, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ledefred of West Lafayette avenue, met with a serious accident while working on the Ledefred farm two miles northeast of the city Friday afternoon. He was on top of a load of baled straw and while going through a gateway the wire broke on the bale where he sat. This threw him behind the mules' heels, which frightened them to such an extent that they ran away. Young Ledefred was brought to Our Savior's hospital where he is suffering from severe injuries to his head and chest.

Mr. Ledefred has been spending the summer on the farm, making his home with his sister, Mrs. George Hoagland. At the time of the accident, shortly after dinner, he was at work at the home of Alfred Barber, Mrs. Barber being his sister. He and Charles Vieira and another man had filled the wagon with baled hay, there being 17 bales in the load. As Ledefred was driving out of the gate there was a small rut which the wire broke on the bale where he sat and at the next moment the man was thrown on the backs of the mules and slid down at their heels. In some miraculous manner Ledefred succeeded in clinging to the lines, although the wagon had passed over his chest, and by a heavy jerk the team was turned to the side, which upset the entire load, burying Ledefred beneath the bales. He was rescued and removed to the Barber home where Dr. J. W. Haigrove and Dr. C. C. Cochran were summoned. He was removed to Our Savior's hospital where his injuries were dressed. There were two large gasps on his head, his right arm was badly injured and his chest showed that the heavy wagon had passed over it. It is difficult to ascertain just the extent of his injuries.

The mules, after spilling the straw took a run for the residence of Mr. Hoagland, a mile and a half away and never stopped until they reached there. The wagon was little damaged and one bale of straw remained on it.

FILES SUIT AGAINST MODERN WOODMAN.

Mrs. Fannie Humphrey, widow of late Dr. W. D. Humphrey, of Virginia, who died at Passavant hospital in this city after a long illness as the result of being thrown from a buggy, has filed a suit against the Modern Woodmen of America to recover $2,000 she alleges to be due on an insurance certificate of her late husband. She alleges the society refused to pay the death claim.

BROOKLYN NOTES.

There will be no open air meeting at Brooklyn tomorrow evening, but services within doors at the usual hours. League will meet at 7 o'clock, preaching at 7:45. Twenty-five young people are representing Brooklyn at the chautauqua, members of the Busy Bee and Young Hickory classes. Brooklyn headquarters on the grounds are at Rev. Mr. Akire's "Fall Inn" tent.

$2.50 Kansas City and return via Wabash, Friday, August 29.

WAS PRESENTED CANE.

"Nashville Home Coming July 4, 1913" was engraved on a beautiful gold headed cane which Attorney Hugh P. Green received recently. At that time Mr. Green was asked to return to his old home in Nashville, Ill., and deliver an address and the receiving of the cane showed the kindly feeling his fellow townsmen have for him.

SECOND CHAUTAUQUA IS NOW IN PROGRESS

erally sang several songs led by Rev. J. A. Biddle of Murrayville and accompanied by the band and Russell Novelty company.

In the evening Miss Ruth Hemenway gave a charming dramatic reading of Ralph Connor's great story, "Black Rock," receiving great compliments on her fine work as usual. The young lady has superior attainments and uses them to the best advantage.

Again the Jeffries concert band charmed the people with a fine concert and the first day of the chautauqua was at an end.

The Games.

Under the supervision of H. A. Brewer of the Y. M. C. A., the children had a lot of games and contests. The results were awarded as follows, prizes according to position of names:

A game of towel tag ended the sport. The judges were Karl Hill, Marcus Robinson, Joseph Crouch and Floyd Williamson.

Child's Welfare Exhibit.

The child's welfare exhibit in the large pavilion attracted many visitors among the ladies and afforded much valuable information to those who are charged with the rearing of the young. Miss Mabel Kendrick, a trained nurse, was in charge and explained the various charts and pictures and showed the working of the apparatus and it is safe to say that all who saw the exhibit were well pleased and much instructed.

Notes.

There were no special police on the ground during the day, but arrangements were made to have two extra ones from noon to midnight and two more from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m.

The driveway south of the bridge is closed to all save patrons of the chautauqua, as all the ground south of the lake, except the children's playground has been given over to the chautauqua people during the ten days of the enterprise. Persons desiring to go to the ball grounds for the bona fide purpose of practicing for the coming games will be permitted to do so.

There was a lack of drinking water on the grounds yesterday and the chautauqua management and they were waiting to hear from the Gravel Springs people relative to getting water from them. It is expected that suitable tanks will be supplied and kept filled hereafter.

The playground for the children was used by hundreds yesterday and all the little folks seemed to get much pleasure from it.

The generous patronage of the people from the country is most gratifying to all.

The automobiles are parked in the southeast corner and the teams in front of them and at the racks along the lake.

Sunday Evangelist Scovill is to be here and the people of the Christian church are making special efforts to make it a great occasion as it should be. Within a few months the gentleman has broken a leg and an arm, but he is still hard at work.

Bishop Quayle is to be here today and speak twice and it will be a rare treat to hear him. Dr. McCarty is endeavoring to make it especially a Methodist day and is trying to get the people of the county generally to attend.

FIT THE BAY OUT FOR SCHOOL AT KNOLES. BIG LINE OF SUITS WITH EXTRA PANTS.

RETURN FROM EUROPE.

Paul Scrimmer, who has been visiting at the home of William Cleary northeast of the city has gone to his home in LeRoy, Ill., accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Harry Woods of this city. Their parents, Rev. Mrs. George Scrimmer and daughter have just returned from an extended trip through Europe.

MORTUARY

Lockhart.

James H. Lockhart of Neoga, Ill., aged 65 years, died Thursday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the Jacksonville State hospital. J. E. Crockett came to the city and accompanied the remains to his former home, where funeral services will be held. The body was prepared for burial at O'Donnell's undertaking parlors.

Alkire.

Rev. Hy S. Alkire of Brooklyn church has received word of the death of his father in Ohio. Mr. Alkire served in the civil war for four years as a member of the First Ohio cavalry. He received a bullet wound in the right knee, from the effects of which he never fully recovered and which confined him for eleven years to a hospital. Rev. Mr. Alkire will not be able to attend the funeral this afternoon, as he was prevented leaving the city on account of the illness of Mrs. Alkire.

Lackey.

Rev. H. Lackey, a former pastor of the A. M. E. church of this city, died Friday at his home in Lincoln, Ill. Mrs. Martha Stewart and daughter have gone of Lincoln to attend the funeral.

NEW FURNISHINGS AT KNOLES

MEETS YOUNG LADY.

It was a buggy wheel and not his heart which a young man of the vicinity of Woodson lost yesterday afternoon when he met one of Jacksonville's belles out for her afternoon drive. The young lady, headed east when in front of Batz' cafe, drove her buggy so close to the vehicle of the Woodson visitor that a front wheel was broken square off. Not deigning to waste time in the young man's company the driver in the undamaged vehicle drove on as if no accident had happened and as if such an accident was an everyday occurrence.

RETURNS FROM COLUMBIA.

Miss Nell Reaugh of West College avenue returned Friday evening from Columbia University, New York City, where she took special work in domestic science. While in the east she visited Niagara Falls and Lakes Champlain and George. She will begin her third year's teaching at Collinsville, Sept. 3.

$3.50 Kansas City and return via Wabash, Friday, August 29.

WILL TEACH IN ARENZVILLE.

Roscoe G. Linder of Chandlerville, who was graduated last June from Illinois college, has secured a position in the high school at Arenzville. He will have charge of the work in German and will teach classes in Science and English.

FUNERALS

Franz.

The funeral of Fred Albert Franz was conducted Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence, 610 Grove street, in charge of Rev. George W. Flagg of Centenary M. E. church, the Odd Fellows having charge at the grave. There was a large assemblage of friends, among them a great many from the Odd Fellows lodge and Tribe of Red Men, of which organizations the deceased belonged.

The pastor took his text from Psalm 103-14, "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust." Music was given by Miss Ainslie Mooie, who sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Abide With Me," her sister, Miss Clara C. Moore acting as accompanist.

There were many beautiful flowers, among them a pillow from the Red Men, a Three Link emblem from the Odd Fellows and sprays from the Rebekahs and members of Pocatontas Tribe. These were kindly cared for by Mrs. Albert Deatherage, Mrs. Walter Brown, Miss Emma Hunter and Mrs. J. L. Pine.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were Clark Rothwell, Carl Henderson, Joseph Ludwig, John Nolley, A. E. Deatherage and J. N. Deatherage.

Markham.

The funeral of Miss Frances Markham was held from the family home in Chaplin, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Mr. Cannon, pastor of the Christian church in Pittsfield. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Montie Funk, Miss Neta Taylor, Mrs. Burnham and Mrs. Corbridge.

Interment was made in Jordan cemetery and the bearers were Arthur Vannier, Harry Corbridge, Albert Cratz, Walter Bobbitt, Montie Funk and James Guinnam.

MATRIMONIAL

McKinney-Isley.

The marriage of Charles McKinney of Petersburg and Miss Ethel Isley of Oakford took place in this city Thursday evening, Rev. J. W. Rhoads officiating. The young people are well known and highly respected citizens of Menard county, where they expect to make their home.

DeFrates-Tribble.

Tony DeFrates and Miss Maude Tribble were married in Springfield Thursday at the home of the pastor of the M. E. church, the Rev. William Brandon. The groom is employed in the Illinois Steel Bridge Co., as a machinist. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Tribble of East Lafayette avenue. They will reside in their new home on King street and will go to housekeeping at once.

Wright-Gaskins.

Mrs. W. J. Fell has received word of the marriage of her nephew, L. W. Wright, and Miss Arzella Kaskins, which took place Aug. 17 in Eureka Springs, Ark. Mr. Wright is well known in Jacksonville where he has spent a number of summers.

Brennan-Sargent.

The marriage of Mr. George Brenna and Miss Veda Sargent was solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. J. W. Miller of Grace M. E. church officiating. The marriage was witnessed by members of the family, Mrs. Agnes Jackson of Chicago, a sister, being here for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Sargent of 227 West College avenue and the groom is the son of John J. Brennan of 667 South West street. Both young people have a host of friends who will wish them an happy married life. The groom is a tinner by trade, employed by George S. Gay. After a brief wedding trip to St. Louis they will reside in this city.

SMALL WRECK ON ALTON.

Traffic was delayed for several hours on the Chicago and Alton railroad Friday afternoon as the result of a wreck two and one half miles north of Woodson. A freight train going north, broke loose on the south grade and when the cars came together again, one car was mashed to pieces and another badly wrecked. One car contained meat and it was quite a task to re-load the same. The wrecker was needed to clear the tracks, which took over five hours and a half.
